

Big Thinkers @ Dovedale

only £40

'Big Thinkers' Is a Philosophy club for Dovedale pupils in Y5, running every Friday after school (3.20-4.20pm) from April 21st, 2023. Sessions are discussion based and each week a BIG philosophical question is explored together through stories, games and activities—questions like 'is the mind separate from the body?'; 'what is the best way to make decisions?'; 'what does it mean to be a good thinker?', and 'is it always right to tell the truth?'

The sessions help pupils to develop their thinking skills by working with others, building confidence in exploring ideas and arguments together, and expressing opinions.

Most importantly, sessions are fun! Children are natural philosophers, inclined to wonder about big questions, and Philosophy for Tweens offers the perfect environment to encourage and nurture this ability.

The sessions are run at Dovedale on a half termly basis. The cost for this is usually £50 but a special 20% discount for Dovedale has been applied so pupils can sign up for £40. There is a limit of 15 pupils for the group. If you would like to register your child, please e-mail info@thethinkerhub.com with name, age, and any SEN/learning support needs.

About us

Sessions are delivered by Glenn Skelhorn, Royal Institute of Philosophy tutor, former Head of Philosophy at Carmel College, and co-founder and director of The Thinker Hub CIC; and Sarah Daley, co-founder and director of The Thinker Hub CIC and former Head of General RE at Carmel College.
